On Eagle's Wings

"...but those who hope in the Lord
will renew their strength.
They will soar on wings like eagles;
they will run, and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint."

— Isaiah 40:31,
New International Version

LORD OF ALL THE HOURS

O Thou who art my January, my December,
And Lord of all the hours that lie between,
Alpha and Omega, my First and Last,
Now, as another year is brought to birth
Across this aching earth,
I come once more to Thee
For faith to meet these darkly-dawning days.

The opening scene
Is dread
With deepening gloom; the skies are overcast
With storm-clouds born of sin, and nameless fears.
Men know not where to flee
Nor how to hide;
Courage and hope seem fled,
And sorrows multiplied
Wherever my bewildered vision strays.
I come, O Lord, to Thee.

What comfort to remember
The years of Thy right hand, O Thou Most High!
In Thee alone is refuge for the soul;
In Thy great Name is song and strength and peace;
Thou art the same forever, and Thy years
Shall never fail nor cease.

We see in part
And dimly. Thy great heart
Dost see
Time's long, tempestuous story as a whole,
The end from the beginning,
Thy purposes fulfilled,
However dark this warring world may be,
Despite man's sinning—
For Thou art Sovereign, ruling over all.

Thy gracious hand
Is strong to work Thy will,
No matter what befall;
Nor even hosts of hell
Can mar the perfect pattern Thou hast planned.

Thine is the Kingdom! Speed the shining hour
When Thou shalt take to Thee Thy princely power
And reign
In endless equity,
In truth and love and light!
Sin shall be overthrown,
Vanquished be death's domain;
Thy universe shall own
One righteous Throne—
Thy majesty
Alone.

Darkness shall flee away
In that triumphal day,
And all be praise;
So, even now, for me
By faith earth's shadows flee;
All anxious fears are stilled,
And I must sing
When I my God remember,
Thy Name of grace, Thy faithfulness, Thy might,
My Lord and King,
My soul's true January and my sure December.

A Heart Cry

O Lord,

You are our hope. Let us wait upon you with steadfastness and joy.

Often we desire to be shown your will in its completeness. Often we plead to know the outcome of Your work before its time. Often we beg for our labors to be ended and your coming to set the seal on our existence. Yet, Lord, you are our hope. Make that sufficient for us. Quiet our straining hearts and satisfy us with the assurance of your purpose and assistance for us.

Teach us to wait. And in the waiting prepare us to soar. Father, how we need, may, desperately crave the wings of an eagle so that when sorrow and fear and desperation threaten, we may soar above them and gaze down upon them in mockery. For you made us to wheel and dive in the heavens—not to crawl in the dust. Teach us to wait, yet, let us be ready and not walk when we should run, not run when we should fly. Let us mount on Eagle's Wings.
